Mudville Madrigal Singers

The Mudville Madrigal Singers came into being when musicians from the historic "Mudville" neighborhood of Holliston, MA started singing together in 1993. Now the group's 10 members hail from several greater Boston communities, and they perform across the western suburbs. Performing a wide variety of music for unaccompanied voices, the group has been praised for their sumptuous blend and diverse programming. The ensemble is equally at home singing Renaissance madrigals, sacred works from Palestrina to Poulenc, part-songs from across Europe, traditional spirituals, or jazzy selections from the American songbook.
